EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Isabella Alexa Ludwig is a South African midfielder who has risen through the domestic game to establish herself at both club and international level. She developed her early career at Tuks Ladies and was instrumental in the team that finished runners-up at the 2022 Sasol League National Championship. In April 2025, Ludwig moved to Mamelodi Sundowns Ladies and made an immediate impact by scoring on her debut in a 2–0 victory over UCT Ladies.

Internationally, she earned recognition with the South Africa women’s national team, making her senior debut against Namibia on 22 October 2024. She was part of the national squad that competed at the 2024 COSAFA Women’s Championship, further consolidating her status as a player with long-term potential.
